Tuesday's rain was hard on the nerves of every resident of the Lake Okechobee. On Friday, a few hours it looked like the spring tomato and bean crops were going to be seen on every hand. About two inches of rain was all that our crops could stand in one day.

A scarcity of bean and tomato pickers has been worrying the growers in this section for the past ten days. A call for help was made, and on Wednesday morning the sun came out and smiles were to be seen on every hand. About two inches of rain was all that our crops could stand in one day.

Prison Farm in Everglades Now on Paying Basis

Syrup and Dried Beans Form Principal Production

Tallahassee, Fla., March 31.—J. H. Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, announced "yes" today when Governor Cone asked if the Belle Glade prison farm in the Everglades is "really paying."

"I haven't any right to refuse on any institution," said the governor. "But I think we ought to wait until the operating costs because the auditor's report, which the State prison operating cost," has been high.

"I think we need common-sense business sense in our prison farming operations," said the governor.

Cabinet members reported the Belle Glade prison produced 50,000 pounds of dried beans and 80,000 gallons of syrup during the current season.

The plan, started two years ago, was to have the Belle Glade prison produce about 100,000 pounds of dried beans and 100,000 gallons of syrup.

Monthly Cash Payments to Need 1,339 In P. B. County

There are approximately 1,339 needy persons in Palm Beach county who will benefit from the proposed seven and three-quarter month assistance program which will be acted upon by the 1937 State Legislature.

The figures have just been released by the State Board of Social Welfare and were computed as a result of a survey made during the past year and a half.

The study shows that there are 755 aged persons, sixty-five or over in Palm Beach county; 29 blind persons; and 250 families with 355 dependent children who are eligible to receive monthly cash grants.

PARTY HARMONY

action of Miami's Thomas S. Brown to the presidency of the Democratic Clubs of Florida means complete harmony in the ranks of the party for the next two years, at least.

The issue between this young leader of the peace and his political opponents in the race was whether the Young Democrats as a whole would pledge allegiance to the administration of Gov. Fred C. Cone, or whether the friends of Governor Dave Sholtz could continue to hold the whip hand.

Mr. Ferguson staged an effective campaign. In it he was aided by the fact that Governor Cone regards him as one of his old friends. Accordingly, the friends of the Sholtz administration are not at all in the firing line.

The principal opponent in this race was not one of the Sholtz administration, and even the fiercest backing of the Sholtz administration could not win him over in the fact of political resistance put up against him from the enemies of the old order.

So the Young Democrats have served their tradition of loyalty with the winner and making his state administration their guiding light. The senior body of Democrats also is being led and aided with friends of the governor. With that sort of union, they can successfully challenge the superiority of the party in states.—Miami Herald.

AS OTHER EDITORS SEE IT

A SENSIBLE REQUEST
If the Everglades flood control board is to be abolished, there could be no better allocation of the funds left in that body than to leave them to further control of fires in the Everglades.

Chief Guy J. Bender of the Everglades fire control district, is presenting a special request to the legislators, that the area included in fire control, that they use their office to have a balance of $182,000 in the flood control district devoted to establishing two additional fire-fighting units near Lake Okechobee, should that body be abolished by legislative act.

The results achieved by the fire control district have been truly remarkable under the limited appropriations with which Bender and his force have had to work in a little more than a year the district has extinguished some 15 fires in muck soil in the 11 counties included in the area.

The fires involved 50,811 acres of muckland, a large section of the Everglades national forest.

Under Bender's direction fire-fighting in muck soil is no longer a haphazard method which got nowhere in putting out fires and accomplished little in preventing them.

With the exception of a fire in Broward county nearly two years ago, which was put under control after days of flooding, backfiring and ditching, the coastal cities of southeast Florida have been singularly free under the present system from the pall of acid smoke that annually floated in on the west winds from the Everglades.

The Everglades fire district needs funds for expansion, and larger forces. It is not unreasonably to request that any balance left in the flood control district be used for fire-fighting in the Everglades in event the flood district is ruled out by legislative act.

The muck soil of the Everglades is one of the greatest sources of potential wealth which the state enjoys. There should be no economic and food-fuel economy in safeguarding this asset of the commonwealth.—Miami Herald.

WHY BRING THAT UP?
Some observers are wondering what will be the reaction to the statement just issued by J. B. Hodges of Lake City, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee and lobbyist for public utilities, calling the attention of Gov. Fred C. Cone to the party platform.

Most of the platform is the orthodox plank on economy, low taxes and good government. No one takes them very seriously because they are honored much more in the breach than in the observance.

But one clause related to nepotism, condemning the practice that is the first time in some years that nepotism, which means putting your relatives into paying jobs, has been waved in the public face. It can apply only to Governor Cone's relatives, who are finding places by the score on the state pay rolls.

Such a statement could be intended only to so embarrass the governor in view of the need for harmony at this critical time, the chairman's action in particular out of place. We all know Fred Cone sets much store by his relatives, and attributes part of his success at the polls to them. It is only natural that they should be rewarded. But why bring that up when so many more important things wait to be done?

The executive committee does not have such a record of achievement that it can afford to be throwing political rocks at others. We suggest that when the committee quits being a cat-paw for lobbyists, then will be time enough for it to correct others.—Miami Herald.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

With another session of the legislature coming along I figured maybe it might be a good idea to run up to Tallahassee and do a little report on I took a couple of days off last week to roam the red clay hills of Leon.

Consider the number of legislators that have come and went you'd think the natives would be getting used to it by now, but as far as I could see they are just as excited as if it was something that never happened before. But I circled always draws a crowd and no matter how many times you've seen the show you always want to go again.

As usual they were bumping different departments out of their ears to make room for the incoming delegation. Merchants have put in a nice stock of knick-knacks, housewives have fixed up the spare room and others are arranging to have Willie sleep with Grampa for the next two months and are figuring they can make enough off a boarder or two to agricultural assets of vacation money for next summer.

The first couple of hours after I arrived in town I felt like a strange dog in a new alley. Every one I'd meet would circle around and sniff me over, ask what I was doing there and all I could do was stand still and wag my tail.

I guess a lot of 'em got bones buried around and they just naturally want trust a newcomer.

After spending a few hours around the hotel lobbies and drug stores, I figured there wasn't any use going back to cover the session. According to the guys that know about such things, Fred's got the legislature eating right out of his hand. All this talk you hear to the contrary is just a lot of pre-arranged soup. You can take it from me this legislative bunch is organized; they know just what they're going to do and Fred can go along with them or it will be just too bad!

They're gonna take the ad valorem tax off and put on a sales tax and if Fred vetoes it they'll pass it over his head, but you never mind to think they'll pass a sales tax, I'm telling you that's out, not a chance this session. What they're gonna do is pass the recovery act, but they're not gonna bother the chain stores.

They're gonna lower the price of auto tags and make up the difference by phasing a driver's license law and they'll put back the state fund and the other areas are gonna catch hell this session. I understand they're gonna go away with the justices of the peace. They may nail some of the fee officers to the cross but they can't touch the justices, they are the Constitution.

Well, I listened to that kind of chatter for a few hours and then I went to my room and took a large glass of Milk of Magnesia, but I don't appreciate all this confidential information but I've learned that it pays to beat the old headache to the punch if you can.

Another thing I learned was that some folks are all upset over the kind of language the Governor-nomics. It seems they object to "rude" negatives like "We never have no such nonsense when I was in the legislature," but just the same I haven't found anybody that had the least bit of trouble understanding what Fred is talking about. The real trouble as I see it is he makes it too darn plain. They can rave and carry on all they like about the Governor saying "Ain't," but that's not what's worryin' 'em. It's the way he says "NO" that gets under their skins. They can say what they want about Fred, but they can't call him a "YES" man.

HOW A Modern Hostess makes a REPUTATION

NO hostess ever made a reputation with a routine dish. Imagine, for instance, trying to convince your dinner guests that your stewed corn excelled that of any other hostess—they know. Stewed corn is an excellent dish, but it does not excel. If you want to make a hit with a dish which contains corn, you must dress it up into something like this:

Corn and Mushroom Casserole: Soak two tablespoons sliced onion in one tablespoon butter for several minutes. Add the contents of a can of mushrooms and a No. 2 can creamy corn, three-fourths cup grated cheese, three-fourths cup chili sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Turn into a buttered casserole and bake in moderate—375 degrees—oven for about thirty minutes. Serves six.

A Luncheon Dish
Of, if you want a corn dish that looks attractive and tastes twice as good as it looks, to serve at a luncheon party, try this:

Potatoes Blended with Corn, Celery and Cucumbers: Cut stems from eight firm tomatoes, chop centers and dust lightly with salt. Stand one-half cup diced celery and one-half cup diced cucumbers in two tablespoons butter for several minutes, add one cup cream and one cup corn, and if too dry, add two or three tablespoons cream. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Fill tomatoes with this mixture and top with buttered crumbs. Around each tomato wrap a slice of onion, fastening with a toothpick. Bake in a moderate oven for about thirty minutes, or until tomatoes are done and corn brown. Serves eight.

Less Monthly Discomfort
Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CALBUD, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. Girls, troubled by thousands of women, as well as men, of course, it is well worth trying.

Mineral Colloids "Missing Link" In Vegetable Balance

Orlando, April 2.—With the modern day discovery of the practical use in agriculture of minerals which rebuild the soil, every farmer in the country can now produce crops which the housewife is demanding. Dr. Charles Northern, pioneer in the use of Mineral Colloids, long searched for by agriculturists and scientists as the "Missing Link" of the soil.

Some women leaders opposed such legislation, claiming that because employers might displace women with men in instances where the law applied. This would result, they said, in depriving women of gainful employment.

The Florida Association for Promotion of Social Legislation recently recommended specific legislation to regulate hours and conditions of women's work.

Some observers here who declined to be quoted directly said proposals to establish such laws in Florida for women would meet the same opposition encountered two years ago. They added that an act would meet even more opposition if it proposed to set up regulations that would extend to women, men and children because of the complications of determining what classes of employment would be affected.

OF ALL BEVERAGES

If you were asked what is the most beverage that is being consumed from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Maine to Mexico, you could make only one answer—tomato juice. Tomatoes, which were thought to be poisonous in the Middle Ages, are nothing now to our tables, but the drinking of the juice pressed from tomatoes has acquired such a vogue in the last few years that it is now one of the major concerns of the commercial canning industry. There are a number of reasons for this, all good, but the chief reason is that tomato juice just tastes fine to nearly everybody.

It is perfectly natural when any new beverage has such a vogue, everyone has taken a shot at making variations of it. Some people just drink the juice, others mix it with lemon juice, and still others mix it with sugar. But the best combinations of tomato juice and other ingredients. Tomato juice is a beverage of which you do not tire, but it is interesting to know how some people have tried to vary it. Here are a few examples.

The Simplest Forms
"Ice Tomato Juice": Mix together and chill thoroughly the contents of two cans tomato juice, salt and pepper to taste, two tablespoons sugar, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and a few drops of Tabasco sauce. Serve six.

"Tomatoade": Heat two cups strained tomato juice and one-fourth cup lemon juice and one-half cup sugar. Boil for five minutes. Strain through a fine sieve. Add one-half cup of Worcestershire sauce, and chill. Serve very cold in cocktail glasses. Serve six.

"Tomato Fizz": Season the contents of one can tomato juice with salt, pepper, paprika and onion juice. Soften one-half teaspoon gelatin in a little cold tomato juice, and dissolve in some boiling tomato juice. Pour the whole mixture into refrigerator tray and freeze to a soft mush. Add one well-beaten egg white and refreeze to a very soft mush. Serve with a tiny sprig of parsley on top. Serves four and holds not more than fifteen cents.

With Other Vegetables
Tomato and Cucumber Cocktail: Slice one medium cucumber with the peeling left on. Simmer together for thirty minutes three cups strained tomato juice, two large water, one clove garlic, salt, one tablespoon sugar and a few sprigs of pepper. Strain and cool the juice. Serve ice cold in glass cocktail cups. Serves eight.

Tomato and Oyster Cocktail: Simmer together for thirty minutes three cups strained tomato juice, two cups water, one cup celery (cut stalks and leaves), one cup onion, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one pepper, one onion, one clove garlic, salt, one tablespoon sugar and a few sprigs of pepper. Strain and cool. Serve cold in cocktail glasses. Serves eight.

With Charged Water
Sparkling Tomato Beverage: Add the juice of one lemon, one cup tomato sugar and salt to taste to the contents of two cans tomato juice, and have very cold. Add one well-beaten egg white, one cup sugar, one cup lemon juice and one cup tomato juice. Chill and serve at once. Makes six cups.

Tomato and Ginger Ale Pick: Mix together one can tomato juice and one-half cup ginger ale over night, and in the morning combine the two and serve at once. Makes four meals. It is recommended as especially efficacious for the morning after the night before.

him a crop of gems mixed with half fancy and half choice. The next year gave this grower crops of six fancy pickings and tomatoes still on the vine.

Other tomato growers in this same vicinity were fifty per cent below normal, while this one grower, using Doctor Northern's prescription, produced a crop above normal. Other analysts claimed this to be an off season, but this one crop above normal was produced.

Corn crops in New York last year produced Eight-Row Flint corn thirteen to fifteen inches long and twice the production of other years. Tobacco in Kentucky and Virginia got the same results.

Potatoes in Maine, cotton and peanuts in Alabama, peaches in Georgia, all received the benefits of one man's research of many years. One story in a leading magazine led people in all walks of life to experiment with Doctor Northern's discovery. All the letters this famous soil builder received showed the same answer: Results never before obtained.

Doctor Northern has always worked in close harmony with the farmers and will continue to do so, realizing not only his discovery help the farmer but human life will reap the benefits of being able to eat health-giving foods and plant life loaded with minerals and vitamins.

This discovery by Doctor Northern is the discovery of every farmer and grower in the country. His years of study and research is theirs. Doctor Northern will prescribe for the soil of the small farmer or the large, the wealthy farmer or the poor. His one idea is to give civilization foods needed. The United States has an opportunity at the present time to raise plant life which will produce healthy bodies.

posed assistance program is the change in age requirements for those who receive old age pensions. Under the present plan the age limit is 70 years, but this will be lowered to 65 by the proposed program.

At the general election November 1, 1937, Florida voters ratified a constitutional amendment which empowers the legislature to appropriate funds for relief and public assistance purposes, thus clearing the way for Florida to obtain matching Federal funds which are offered under the security act.

A three-part assistance program will aid more than 45,000 individuals in Florida who are in need. The total cost of this program will be $7,800,000, and of this the Federal government will pay $3,065,000, leaving $4,735,000 as the amount which the Legislature must appropriate.

The assistance program will be administered by the State Board of Social Welfare through twelve district boards. The welfare organization was created by passage of the 1935 State Welfare Law. The State Board of Social Welfare.

How To Handle

Heat and Cold

EVERY reporter knows the alibi that new glasses are quicker than soup. If he gets a hot tip, he follows it up as fast as he can. Every chef would maintain that soup gets colder quicker than news—apart from soup, for instance, even without the tip, incidentally, here's how to make it.

Asparagus Soup: Cut off the tips from the asparagus in one tall can, and set them aside for a garnish. Turn the rest of the asparagus, cut fine, and the liquor from the can into a sauce pan. Add one quart stock and boil ten minutes. Press through a sieve. Sauté two tablespoons chopped sweet red pepper in three minutes, add four tablespoons sour, and stir until thickened and smooth. Then add the asparagus and stock liquid, stirring constantly till smooth and creamy. Add one-half cup cream, season to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg, and serve piping hot. Serves eight.

Heat Often the Secret: Heat is often the secret of a successful meal. Every good cook knows that proper temperature is half the battle, and resolutely refuses to broil a steak until the steaks are actually browned around the festive board. The French, preeminent among all the cooks of the world, have earthenware dishes called "petites marmites" in which such delicate soups as fillet de sole are put before you sizzling hot.

But this is no time of the year to dwell upon hot-beds, although soups and stews should be served at most summer meals.

Fortunately for epicures, the served with both ways these dishes which are supposed to be served cold become nothing but a tasteless mass unless their gold temperature is properly maintained. Who, for instance, during these torrid days would care to tuck a lukewarm salad?

Cold Makes Culinary Triumphs

Cold creates culinary triumphs gold as often as heat, and with our modern automatic refrigerators we may be said to have taken the lead over all nations in being able to distribute such dishes as the following, for instance, would be far less often if it were not for these invaluable adjuncts to our epicurean summer diet.

Raspberry and Banana Froth: Soak one tablespoon gelatin in three tablespoons lemon juice for five minutes, dissolve in one and a half cups boiling water, add one-fourth cup sugar and stir until dissolved. Then cool and add one and three-quarters cups strained raspberries and one and three-quarters cups mashed banana pulp. Whip thick as honey, fold in one beaten egg white and pour into refrigerator and chill for three or four hours. Serve with whipped cream. Serves eight.

Frozen Pudding: Mix two tablespoons cornstarch with one-half cup sugar, add to two cups scalded milk and cook in a double boiler until thick and smooth. Beat two egg yolks slightly, add the hot mixture slowly, return to double boiler and cook one or two longer. Cool. Add one cup cream, beaten. Add one cup canned mince and one and a half teaspoons rum flavoring, and refrigerate overnight. Serves eight.

HIGHWAY FOUNDATION IS OFTEN CAUSE OF FAILURE

Highways safer and more durable through improved design and construction—particularly in better soil foundations—are the picture of the future by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads. Improvements can be attained, he says, by use of present knowledge, he says, as research continues to arm the engineer with more information about highway materials.

Like any durable structure, the highway must be built upon a firm base. In the past, attention has been focused upon adequate drainage and hard, all-weather surfaces. The soil foundation upon which the surface is placed, merits, and in the future will receive, more attention.

A test road, built by the Bureau of Public Roads and the South Carolina State Highway Department, after 1 year confirms previous evidence that poor foundations, more than type of surface, are a prime cause of surface failure. The test road, 20 miles long, was surfaced with bituminous-treated local materials. Construction methods varied on different sections of the road.

Where the foundation failed it was found that only by replacing unsatisfactory materials with stable materials or by providing better drainage could failure be permanently improved.

missing man, then they placed buoys to mark the spot and proceeded to Port Mayaca. Officials of Palm Beach county, crews of the Latham company and members of the U. S. Engineers have assisted in the search for the body.

McCart had been living in West Palm Beach recently. His parents reside in Miles City, Mont.

RAINFALL HEAVY

Tuesday's rainfall established records for this time of year according to reports from observers in West Palm Beach where 6.6 inches was recorded. The rain fell at Everglades Experiment Station near Belle Glade was measured at 4 inches and at Lake Wales it was 5 inches.

Less damage was done to crops than was at first estimated, high land benefiting some from it.
